

The visitors, of course, were down all of the many good points Glendale and the party afterwards motored to the beaches so the guests now are confirmed lovers for southern California. Before taking up his residence here Mr. Pool was for some years city commissioner of Regina, and was delighted to have the opportunity of meeting again some of his old official friends.

CLARENCE CAUSES GREAT MIXUP AT HIGH SCHOOL

All Happens on Stage In Auditorium and It Is Senior Class Play

doesn't allow him to stay on the stage long enough to get in any real, fancy dirty work. However,
in the climax he does endeavor to prove that the hero is a certain Charles Short, who is wanted by the authorities for getting married twice or not getting married
at all or for something of the kind.
Clarence denies being the aforesaid person and settles the argument by remarking that his name
can easily be found in the 1916
issue of "Who's Who."

And There It Is

Well, it can't be found in there easily, either, because there are only about seven thousand names
in it. Besides, nobody in the audience has thought to bring one of these national telephone and city directories along. Other books that you ought to take, if you attend the play tonight, are a dictionary, and an atlas. In case you haven't got a dictionary, however, "Who's Who" isn't spelled with a "K" at all.

The way you find it in the dictionary is first to look under the
"K's" and then under the
"Kool's" and then under the
"Kul's" and the "Col's" and the
"Cool's" and the "Cull's" and the "Cooll's"—and then you turn to insect and there's its whole family pedigree.

Also, in case you have forgotten your geography, cannibals
don't grow in Montana. They come from Africa—where the nice, juicy missionaries are thick.
You won't need an almanac because unless you slept in the cellar
last night you know that Luna is on the job. So when the audience hear "Ma" Wheeler and Cora urging Clarence to come out and look at the moon, you know that it's all right and that they aren't behind the scenes to match pennies.

Cast Well-Balanced

Miss Eleanor Sawyer is in the play, also. She takes the part of the governess. She doesn't have a whole lot to do except look pretty and agree to elope with the hero. Only Clarence does most of the agreeing. And it would have been an elopement if the whole family didn't turn out to see them off.

Harold Sprague, who plays the part of Bobby, is terribly disappointed in losing the object of his affection, but he turns out to be a good sport and hurries over to Brand boulevard with their baggage when Clarence says the "car"
is waiting.

Miss Genevieve Mulligan plays
the part of Mrs. Wheeler. She seems to be acting to get in some good sob stuff but doesn't get much chance as "hubby" doesn't seem to take much interest in storm scenes and Clarence always comes in just at the wrong time.
Mistaking a "v" for a "t" and telling everybody about it is the worst thing done by Miss Mildred Stanford, who takes the part of the maid.

Sideburns and All
Dale Wood is disguised during the play in sideburns and a blue and gold livery as the butler. He ruins the climax by coming in at the last of the third act and asking Clarence to come and fix the water pipes. He also brings in the mail in the last act.

Miss Louise Hollenbeck takes the part of Mrs. Martyn whose activities are confined to the first act. The audience agrees that she plays her part very well.

Music between the acts is furnished by the high school orchestra. Ivan Dow takes the solo cornet part in the overture which is
"Flora" by Schlegel. Elden
Benge was unable to play a promised cornet solo. Miss Hazel Linkugel plays two violin solos, both of which are much applauded.

Sand Dunes Mystery; Woman Is Involved

CHICAGO, June 9.—The finding of the body of an unidentified man, charred beyond recognition in the sand dunes eight miles east of Chesterton, Ind., today has provided the authorities of Porter county, Indiana, with a grim mystery from which sensational disclosures are expected.

"Diana of the dunes," a woman who has lived in half barbaric style on the dunes for the past eight years, and a man known as "Wilson," who is said to have posed as the husband of Diana,
were linked with the mystery
when the police started a search for her. Neither has been seen for several days.

The body of the man, a rifle
clutched in his hand, was found late yesterday. From all appearances the man was a well-to-do camper. In a satchel near the body was a complete radio set and an expensive camping outfit. On the suitcase was the name "Anderson" and on two purchase tickets from a Chicago store appeared the name "Erickson." These are the only clues to the man's identity.

From the date of the purchase
tickets and a copy of a newspaper which was found beneath the body, the man is believed to have left Chicago May 29. The condition of the body indicated he had been dead nearly that long.

The man known as "Wilson,"
whom the authorities are seeking
said to have come to the dunes comparatively recently and to have taken up his habitation in the hut occupied by "Diana." He and "Diana" became familiar characters about the dunes and the beach that skirts them. Authorities say their records indicate that Wilson is an ex-convict.

Millers Play 228 Straight Games Without Shutout

MINNEAPOLIS, June 9.—
Baseball fans here are convinced that the Minnesota Millers, at present leading the field in the American association pennant race, have established a record that never has been duplicated in organized baseball.

The Millers have played 228 consecutive contests without suffering the ignominy of a shut out. The records fail to show any similar performance
in the history of the game.

On September 20, 1920, Ben Tineup, pitching for Louisville, shut out the Millers while the Colonels were achieving thirty-
seven runs. Since that time,
through the finish of the 1920
season, through all of the 1921
season and thus far in 1922,
Joe Cantillon's club has scored
one or more runs in every contest played.

PRESIDENT PAYS HEROES TRIBUTE

Harding, at Princeton, In Plea to Americans to Reconsecrate Selves

By WEBSTER K. NOLAN
By International News Service.
PRINCETON, N. J., June 9.—
Here among the historic scenes of Princeton in an atmosphere reminiscent of revolutionary days,
President Harding this afternoon
dedicated a monument commemorating the battle of Princeton, and in a short historical address declared Americans could do no better than to reconsecrate themselves to the ideals for which Washington fought.

The President drew an object lesson from the terrible trials and the ultimate triumphs that fell to Washington's lot. He sketched at some length the bitter winter campaign that preceded the turn of the tide in the war, how blow
after blow had been met stoically
and heroically and how grim determination and high purpose ultimately achieved American independence.

A distinguished audience, including the Princeton faculty, and students, heard the address.

ETHER ORCHESTRA TO GIVE MUSIC FOR DANCERS

Radio Will Be Used for Event at Eagle Rock
Saturday Night

A regular radio dance, one of the first of its kind in this vicinity, has been arranged for Saturday night, June 10, by the Bird Rock club. It will be held in the Twentieth Century Woman's clubhouse in Eagle Rock.

The unique feature of receiving the dance music from Los Angeles by wireless waves is made possible through the courtesy of the K.W. Radio Products Company of Glendale which, through the cooperation of the radio editor of The Glendale Evening News, is loaning its powerful receiver and sound magnifying equipment.

Mr. Heacock of the Hancock Music company of Eagle Rock has apprised the various Los Angeles broadcasting stations of Los Angeles about the dance and the three operating on that night will send several orchestral dance re-gords through the ether to supplu-ment the Bird Rock's club regular entertainers.

Considerable comment favorable to Eagle Rock's enterprise
also is promissed by the Los Angeles newspapers.

William Lord of Los Angeles
has purchased a lot on the corner
of Townsend and Park avenues, Eagle Rock, and will commence
the erection of a five-room bungal-ow at once.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Ohlman have sold their new five-room bungal-ow on Waldron avenue, Eagle
Rock, to Mr. and Mrs. James Corcoran of 420 North Adams street.

The Sunrise Civic club of Eagle
Rock will hold an open meeting
at the East End school on Thursday evening, June 15. An interesting program has been arranged.

D. A. Nelson has just opened a store to handle paints, oils, varnishes and wall paper in the new building at 205 South Central avenue, Eagle Rock. He has recently moved from Los Angeles.

Oh, Mr. Scorekeeper! Give Billy Error!

Editor The Evening News.—To
remain in major league company,
says the Methodist Epworth Herald, Billy Sunday, as outfielder,
must have been a quick thinker,
but as evangelist he made a "bush
league" play when recently he caught a $50 fly off the Ku Klux bat, and, instead of shouting it
hot, held on to the ball.

In other words, according to the Cincinnati Enquirer's story, the Ku Klux masqueraders appeared at the evangelist's meeting at Richmond, Ind., and presented him with the usual $50 together with a letter giving the Ku Klux imprimatur to his sermons. Billy Sunday accepted the money and has since given it to charity. In the meantime the Ku Klux players scored their two runs, cheap advertising and the desired psychological effect. On which the Methodist editor, taking up the Ku Klux message, comments:

"If Brother Sunday had used
his baseballer's head while that $50 fly was coming his way, he would have remembered that the teachings of the Christian religion are squarely against private and secret tyranny in the name of justice. He would have seen that 'white supremacy,' whatever it is, is no part of the Christian faith. ('Fighting Bob' Shuler to the contrary notwithstanding.) He would have known that American institutions cannot be up-
built, nor law and order upheld,
by men who hide behind bed sheets and bad spelling. He would have realized that free speech and clandestine 'justice' are incompatible."

So, in fine, the Epworthian editor, who apparently is as familiar with the twirling sphere as with twirling editorial words, compared Sunday with the player who lost
a world series by failing "to touch
second." Now, that opportunity for reflection has given him, after having accepted the verdict of those self-constituted censors of patriotism, creed and morals, he probably knows how Fred Merkle felt when Johnny Evers put the ball on him.

genealogical trees by cutting off
their poor relations.

Alaska Vacation Trip

The Alaska Steamship Company of Los Angeles are putting on an excursion from Los Angeles to Skagway, Alaska, about July 19, being a three or four weeks' trip. The trip covers 6300 miles and costs $189.00. You have nothing else to pay, for this includes staterooms and meals. A side trip to Mt. Ranier, which is in itself about a twenty dollar trip from Seattle, is included. The company is expecting at least 50 people from Glendale. This is a voyage always to be remembered. $189.00 is the entire cost from Los Angeles to Skagway and return. Tickets are all sold for the boats leaving prior to this date. Reservations must be had within ten days. The Steamship Company has made arrangements with H. A. WILSON, Glendale, phone number 2153-J, to look after the selling of the tickets in Glendale.

MAKES REPLY TO RAILROAD HEADS

President of Division of Employees Says Chiefs
Have Exaggerated

CINCINNATI, June 9.—Replying to the charges of six railroad executives that union leaders
alone were responsible for strike talk, Bert M. Jewell, president of the railroad employees' division of the American Federation of Labor, declared here today that some of the statements made by the six presidents were untrue.

"The declaration of the executives that the present wage scales of railroad workers makes them a favored class of workmen is ridiculous and absurd in the extreme," Jewell said. "An examination of the wage scales of other industrial workers will prove to anyone just how unfounded this statement of the executives is."

Called Exaggeration
"The assertion that the roads are still facing a severe financial crisis and that the reduction of wages is necessary to save them is obviously without foundation. The facts have been exaggerated."

Mr. Jewell refused to comment
further on the statement, saying that he could not speak as an individual but only as president of a union of railroad men. He declared that a formal reply to the executives' statement "would be framed as soon as the directing board of the railroad division of the federation could meet and go over the charges thoroughly."

Jewell immediately called an executive session of the brotherhood chieftains.

Military Matters of Big Import Obtained From Germany, Report

By HARRY L. ROGERS
By International News Service.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Military secrets of the German high command during the world war
have been bared to officers of the United States army for use in future wars, it was learned on highest authority today.

American army officers of the next war will have the benefit of a thorough knowledge of the organization, training and tactics of the Kaiser's army.

Lieutenant-Colonel Walter
Krueger of the war plans division,
U. S. A., is in charge of the work
now being carried on in Berlin.
Complete reports of his research
among the archives of the German war office are being forwarded to the war college here where the material is in process of arrangement for presentation in various courses of instruction provided for high ranking officers of the American army.

American experts are frank to admit there is much to be learned of the military science from study
of the records of the German staff.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood E. Barley of San Diego called on Mrs. B. F. Cook of Cook's Confectionery and Cafe today. Mr. Barley is a delegate to the Rotary international convention in Los Angeles. He is also the Boy Scout executive at San Diego and tells that they have taken over the Santa Fe railroad's Pueblo Indian exhibit for a week-end camp. It is a wonderful place for the boys, if pictures are to be believed.

Mrs. S. L. Walker, wife of the local real estate dealer, is reported as slowly recovering from a severe illness which she contracted after a recent trip to the beach. Mrs. Walker has been confined to her bed at the Walker residence, 131 Arden avenue, and until yesterday was unable to take nourishment other than in liquid form. It is expected that her recovery, though slow, will be steady, and that she will soon be able to be out again.

TEACHERS GUESTS AT RADIO PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Rigdon Entertain Faculty Behalf of Son, Warren

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Rigdon of 224 West Doran street entertained the faculty of the Intermediate school, where their son, Warren, is a member of the A-S IV class, with a radio luncheon, Thursday night, June 8.

In honor of the Glendale teachers a Los Angeles radio station put on a special program, planned for Mrs. Rigdon, and another radio station sent greetings over the "wire" to Mr. White and the other guests at the affair.

Warren Rigdon, who is making a special study of the radio, spent much of the evening instructing his teachers in the subject. The program given included numbers by the Chamber of Commerce of Pasadena and an address by Douglas Fairbanks on "Rotary." At 8 o'clock a program which had been especially prepared for the party and arranged by Mrs. Rigdon was broadcasted from Los Angeles, the artists being Amos Dorsey Cain, baritone soloist and teacher. He was most enthusiastically received by the members of the party who were delighted with the manner in which his rich voice adapted itself to radio. Mrs. Cain accompanied him at the piano and also sang several numbers. There were also violin selections, which came over the "radio" very clearly, played by Mrs. Florence Newman Shaw; vocal numbers by Miss Dorothy Frost, soprano, and pupil of Mr. Cain.

The Rigdon home had been artistically decorated with a profusion of roses. Mrs. Rigdon was assisted as hostess by Mrs. Helen Sawyer. A great deal of fun was created by the place cards, "tongue twisters" and conundrums. The teachers were most enthusiastic over the radiophone program and the social good time.

Those who enjoyed the dainty lunch and musical program were Mr. and Mrs. Richardson D. White, Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Mansell, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. MacLennan, Miss Carrie M. Noble, Miss Edith Tyler, Miss Gertrude Grider, Miss Edna Duffey, Miss Carol Duncan, Miss Vera Sinclair, Miss Frances Jackson, Miss Ada Sallstrom, Miss Gladys Sharpe, Miss Helen E. Payne, Miss Andrews, Mrs. F. F. Lytle, Miss Alice Lookabaugh, Miss Portia Chambers, Miss Lula M. Woodbridge, Miss Margaret Sharpe, Mrs. W. Sawyer, Norman R. Whyteck and A. T. Blanford.

Local People Attend Affair at Tujunga

Many Glendale people took advantage of the opportunity to see Frederick Warde, eminent Shakespearean actor, play the part of Shylock in the court scene from "The Merchant of Venice," at the Garden of the Moon amphitheatre, Tujunga, last night.

Probably this is the last time one of the old school of Shakespearean players can be seen and certainly the condition could not have been better, following as it did a program of music given principally by the Mission Players and other contributing talent. Mrs. Tyrone Fowler played the role of Portia while Clarence Arper, Lester Reese, S. M. Dickinson, Floyd Kennard, Harry Kellogg, Alexander Smith and Helen Sewam also appeared in speaking roles of the play.

It is estimated that 1,000 people enjoyed the event, hundreds motoring from Los Angeles, Pasadena, Glendale and vicinity. Mr. Warde is a resident of the Green Verdugo Hills.

Dr. and Mrs. Hogue Are Hosts at Dinner

Dr. and Mrs. R. V. Hogue of 329 North Jackson street had the pleasure of entertaining as their dinner guests Wednesday some former childhood friends from Springfield, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. R. Stokes, who are enjoying a short visit in southern California. They were much pleased to meet Mrs. Addie Allen, mother of Mrs. Hogue, and Mrs. Hogue's sister, Mrs. Clara Linkogel, and daughters, Myrl and Eula, and Mrs. E. L. Tuck. During the day the visitors were taken on a trip to Pasadena and other points of interest. They are delighted with Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamkins Return From North

Mr. and Mrs. James Lamkins of 900 East Colorado boulevard returned yesterday from a motor trip to San Francisco where they attended the general conference of the Seventh-day Adventist church. Glendale looks better than ever after being away, according to Mr. Lamkins.

Mary Makes Faces While Mayor Sings

Mayor Spencer Robinson sang while Mary made faces at the Kiwanis club luncheon at the old adobe in Verdugo Woodlands this noon.

Mary, let it be known, is touted as the most highly educated chimpanzee in the world. She resides at Selig's zoo. However, she doesn't hear the Mayor sing every day and so it was that she wrinkled her nose with delight.

A. L. Baird was sponsor for Mary's attendance at the club. S. W. Brown of the Green Hill beverage plant provided the "silent boost."

PENNANT RACE OF LAST SEASON IS DUPLICATED?

Well, Anyway, Four Teams Are Bunched In Coast League Contest

By HOWARD M'GILLIS
Sporting Editor The Evening News

With the first four teams bunched together within two and a half games of each other in the Pacific Coast league, after two months of playing, gives fair promise of duplicating the 1921 pennant race, which was probably the most spectacular and hotly contested season grid in the history of professional baseball. The four clubs which are now occupying the first division appear to be the ones which will still be battling it out for the gonfalon next October.

There is little difference on paper to be found in the playing strength of Vernon, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Portland, and the ultimate result is likely to be decided in favor of the team which goes through the season with the least number of injuries. Of the quartet Los Angeles and San Francisco, who were the principal contenders during most of 1921, still maintain the same relative strength which took them to first and third places, respectively, last year, and they are predicted to put up a stiff fight for first place throughout the summer.

Tigers Look Good
Bill Essick's Vernon Tigers, who played through a series of handicaps last year to finish in sixth place, were greatly strengthened before the 1922 spring training season took place, and as a result have been setting the pace since the first few weeks of the season.

Portland, with its highly rejuvenated lineup, has been a source of satisfaction to rival club owners from the start. Having been doomed for the cellar berth from the first week of each season for the past four or five years visiting teams have usually expected to stand still or fall behind, from a financial standpoint, when sojourning in the Oregon metropolis. This year, however, with a long wanted change in ownership and managing the Beaver lineup was sufficiently torn asunder and reconstructed to warrant a first division contender for the first time since 1904.

As soon as B. B. Kenworthy, the scrappy manager of the squad, is reinstated by Judge Landis the Portlanders are expected to put up an even more stubborn fight for the lead than they have heretofore exhibited. Kenworthy's suspension will last until August first.

Last Minute Battle
Going back to the last season's record race, it is observed that the pennant could have been won by any one of three teams up until the last day of playing. At that time Los Angeles nosed out Sacramento by a margin of a game and a half, while Sacramento in turn nosed out the overconfident San Francisco Seals by one-half of a contest. Seattle trailed along a game and a half behind the Bay City entry, while Del Howard's Oaklanders, who were given an outside chance to cop the rag until the final week, were but a fraction more than three contests below Seattle.

Following is a list of the standings of the Coast league at the close of the 1921 season:

Club	W	L	Pct.
Los Angeles	108	80	.574
Sacramento	105	80	.568
San Francisco	104	82	.564
Seattle	103	85	.543
Oakland	101	85	.543
Vernon	93	119	.439
Salt Lake City	51	134	.276

BOXING BUREAU MAY START PROBE

Leonard-Britton Failure to Meet in Ring Cause of Questioning

By DAVID J. WALSH
Sporting Editor International News

NEW YORK, June 9.—The New York State Boxing commission, it is understood from unofficial sources, is about to make some embarrassing inquiries about the failure of Benny Leonard and Jack Britton to honor the terms of an agreement whereby they were to meet in some nearby ring on June 23. The so-called match is off, it now develops, and members of the commission are said to have become mildly curious as to what motives, if any, prompted the abandonment of the fistic enterprise.

Ostensibly, the bout was called off when Mr. Rickard made known his desire to transfer the match from Boyle's Thirty Acres, Jersey City, to the New York velodrome.

Call for Coin
They immediately spoke for money when this rather depressing bit of news was imparted, evidently feeling that a bout to a decision in New York was worthy of more remuneration than a no-decision center in Jersey City. Rickard insisted that the boxers live up to the terms of their original agreement and this seemed tantamount to declaring the entire proposition null and void. Leonard and Britton immediately exited, laughing, and Rickard turned his casual attention elsewhere.

Members of the boxing commission, however, are said to have developed a more inquiring turn of mind. They want to know why a fight, if it is to be a fight at all, is worth more in New York than in Jersey City.

The World Over

PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

While a few persons most likely to make a financial gain through another meeting between Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier are keeping alive the talk of such a return match, the fact is that as far as the mass of sports followers is concerned, there is mighty little demand for any such encounter. Both the French and American public, who knew anything about the game, are satisfied that Carpentier is lacking the strength and ruggedness necessary to cope with the American and that nothing but a repetition of the previous battle could result. In other words, the talk of a Carpentier-Dempsey fight is being done by merely a few individuals who seem to be extremely successful in making a big noise.

The San Diego Rowing club has done much in the past to foster the sport on the Pacific coast, and a glance at its program for the coming summer indicates that they are going to continue this policy. They are planning on sending crews to the coast championships and will participate in practically all of the minor events within hailing distance. This club, aside from rowing, has had much to do in the promotion of swimming and diving events.

"Doc" Adams, sports editor of the Honolulu Commercial Advertiser, has just arrived in San Francisco with a big delegation of Shriners from the Hawaiian Islands.

lands to attend the big convention. One of the first things "Doc" did was to find his way up to the ball park and look over the material he has been reading about as it drops off the wireless. He will return with the Shriners when they start on their big excursion to the Islands.

The Pan-American Athletic club has just been organized in Honolulu for the promotion of all forms of sport. It has a membership of 200, composed mostly of Filipinos. Boxing, baseball, swimming and track athletics are the four outdoor sports on which the membership now is concentrating with boxing running as the favorite. A number of four round bouts already have been staged, it being unnecessary to go outside of the precincts of the club in order to get the talent required to put on half a dozen bouts of an evening.

Since William Johnston succeeded in twice defeating the Bill Tilden, the national singles tennis champion, those who had an idea that the Californian was about through with the game have come to the conclusion that they will have to revise their ideas. Coincidentally, from the east come pessimistic views concerning the future of Tilden, so that the boot suddenly has shifted from one foot to the other. At all events, this condition of affairs has tended to put a whole lot of interest into the situation as far as the next national championships are concerned.

SPORTS CHATTER

By BILL UNMACK

PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Press dispatches from Belfast, Ireland, last week announced the death of Dennis Horgan.

To the present generation of competitive athletes the death conveys nothing, but to those who have studied and followed athletics the passing of Dennis Horgan means the passing of one of the greatest shot putters the world ever knew prior to the time of those great students of weight lifting, the late Ralph Rose and Pat McDonald.

Horgan at one time held all shot putting records for England, Scotland and Ireland and he still holds the Scotch sixteen pound shot put record with 47 feet 1 inch, made as late as 1912, and the English record of 46 feet 3 1/2 inch, made in 1894. He also held the Irish record, but this was taken away from him in 1909 by the late Ralph Rose.

The name of Dennis Horgan from 1893 to 1912 inclusive on any European program was enough to pack the stands. He was one of the most popular and gentlemanly of athletes. His special was the shot put, but he also excelled at other weight events, though his greatest fame was made with the sixteen pound spheroid. From 1893 to 1912 he won the English A. A. A. championship thirteen times, took second to Ralph Rose in the 1908 Olympic games at London and in that time innumerable won the shot put titles of Ireland, Scotland and Wales as well as England.

Though Horgan's best record was 47 feet 1 inch, it must be taken into consideration that English shot putters never made such a study of this event as the Americans. As a matter of fact, it is only since the days of Ralph Rose and Pat McDonald—in their early competitive career—that the real inside study of the best methods of putting the shot date from. Under these conditions Horgan's marks were remarkable in their day and when he made his Scottish record in 1912 he had been in active competition exactly twenty years, so that he, too, had taken up the study of the event in his later years, and even handicapped by age in his last competition, actually put further than at the height of his career.

Up to 1909 Horgan's best put had been 46 feet 5 1/2 inches in the Scotch championships, in 1894, and yet, from 1908 to 1912, he many times exceeded this in innumerable meets, with his best effort of 47 feet 1 inch dating to 1912.

The English shot record—and the world's—in 1888, was 43 feet 7 inches, held by that other great shot putter, G. R. Gray. Horgan started his competitive life in 1893 and year by year crept up on Gray's record, and in 1895 broke it with 44 feet 3 1/2 inches. From that day to 1912 he was to the world at large what Ralph Rose and Pat McDonald were in later years. His form with the shot was good, but it was not what could be called perfect when compared with the efforts and attention to detail as exhibited by Rose, McDonald and present-day shot putters.

Like all the big weight men, Horgan had a long and active life in competitive athletics and his work only proves what has often been said, that a weight man can outlast a track man in competition. Dennis Horgan is gone, but the record books will always show the prowess of the man.

NOT SO EASY

The Giants have come back to the field in the National League race just as they figured to do from the outset. Front-running such entries as Pittsburgh, with as fine a collection of pitchers as there is in the land, and St. Louis, mustering a team batting average well beyond .300, is no man's parlor trick and that Giant entry is not altogether fool-proof.

There is, for example, its uncertainty in pitching, which has yet to be shown at its worst. The double header era will do that. The matter of temperament also enters the equation. Prima donnas are by no means unknown to the Giant roster.

The Two-Sided Argument

"In considering the successful system which has brought the intercollegiate title to California for two years," writes Herbert

Reed, "one shouldn't overlook the fact that the athletes out that way are able to work out of doors for something like twelve months a year."

And, we might add, one shouldn't overlook the fact that if they are as stale as an orphaned stein of beer by the end of the college campaign.

A word to the wise is sufficient to start a stampede toward the bookmakers.

STILL TRAILING PADDOCK

The East, while recognizing that Charley Paddock is a remarkable sprinter, never has taken his California records on faith. On this subject, it is not only a land of Doubting Thomases; it is one of absolute dissenters.

The promoters in charge of the American Legion games in Philadelphia June 10 invited Paddock to appear there in a series of sprints, ostensibly to see Paddock run. In reality, a number of eastern sharpshooters would have been there had Paddock accepted the invitation, to see how he shaped up against the various leaders in this section.

If he could have beaten such men as Leoney, Murchison, Woodring and others from two to four yards in the hundred and from four to eight yards in the furlong, the experts would have admired, graciously, that he can and did run 9.3-5 and 20.4-5 for the distances named. Otherwise, they were prepared to laugh at the records out of countenance.

TENDLER DID NOT COMMIT FOUL, SAY EXPERTS

Body Punches Are Sent Downward and Create Optical Delusion

By DAVID J. WALSH

Sporting Editor International News

NEW YORK, June 9.—The plaintive claims of foul, set up by Bobby Barrett and other victims of Lew Tandler's body punches, are an optical delusion influenced by the fact that Tandler's punches are driven downward as they seek the shrinking abdomen while convention demands that the blow be hooked upward.

This theory was advanced today by Frank Flournoy, match maker at Madison Square Garden, who with other competent witnesses of the bout, felt that Barrett was outclassed but not fouled.

"Tandler is a peculiar hitter," declared Flournoy, who has been around the boxing game long enough to qualify as an authority. "He drives all his body punches downward and you never saw a hitter of this type that did not lay himself open to frequent charges of foul. George Chaney of Baltimore is a case in point."

"Barrett was hit low once," he continued, "but since the punch landed away around on his hip, there was no harm done. The lad was simply outclassed and although he was very game, it was only a question of time until he would go out."

Among Golf Survivors
LONDON, June 9.—In the third round of the thousand guinea golf tournament at Glen Eagles today, Abe Mitchell, last year's winner, Ted Ray, former open champion of the United States, and Arthur Compston, who has played sensationally to date, were among the survivors.

Mitchell disposed of Anderson, 1 up; Ray beat Peter Robinson, 2 up and 1 to play, and Compston beat Percy Allis, 2 up.

W. P. Murphy Store Is Being Improved

The William P. Murphy furniture store at 1259 1/2 and 1261 South Brand boulevard is being altered somewhat this week by the removal of several partitions, for more shelving, etc., which will accommodate additional stocks of summer furniture. The business in the Cypress avenue vicinity is growing by leaps and bounds and the furniture store is getting its share, Mr. Murphy says.

Forced to Sleep With Chickens; Quits Wife

WORCESTER, Mass.—Charles Taylor, 45, of this city, has brought suit for divorce against his wife, Kate, aged 35. Taylor alleges he was treated cruelly by his wife, who would not allow him to live in their home, forcing him to sleep in a chicken coop. Taylor explained that he has no intention of marrying again if the divorce is granted.

MAN AND WOMAN SHOT

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 9.—A young woman identified as Mrs. Tola Gibson Bayles, wife of an Atlantic City clerk, and a man who was identified as Benjamin Bileretz of Kingston, Pa., a visitor in Atlantic City, were found shot and seriously wounded in a room in the Marshall hotel here.

REVOLUTION IS REPORTED

LONDON, June 9.—Revolutionary disorders, aimed at the national government at Ankara, have broken out in Turkey, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Constantinople. Several clashes were reported in the region of Bolou.

Irish Troops Secure All of Strongholds

BELFAST, June 9.—Irish troops today are in possession of all the strongholds of the republicans along the Ulster frontier and it is believed that there will be no further fighting. The republicans have crossed over the line into free state and the British did not follow them up.

The British military authorities at Belfast have given assurances that the British forces will be recalled as soon as peace is assured.

While the Ulster border was calm, Belfast passed through a wild night. Snipers were active in many quarters of the city and some streets were constantly swept with bullets.

Soldiers in armored cars were sent out to clean up the snipers and a number of arrests were made.

$300,000 CALEXICO FIRE

CALEXICO, June 9.—Damage estimated today at $300,000 resulted from a fire which destroyed the warehouse of the Calexico Compress company in which 900 bales of cotton were stored. Nine box cars with 700 bales of cotton were also burned.

RALPH DE PALMA IN DUESENBERG AFTER TITLE

Crafty Driver to Attempt to Capture Shrine Race In North Wednesday

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—Driving a new Duesenberg job which he declares to be the fastest thing he has ever piloted around an American Speedway, Ralph de Palma, regarded as the craftiest race driver in the country, will be one of the sensations of the Shriner's golden jubilee race meet on the San Carlos Speedway, Wednesday, June 14.

De Palma's French Ballot racer did not seem balanced right for the grilling board speedway event, allowing Ralph to show only flashes of his wonderful ability; the famous Italian speed king has not been up among the top at the finish of many recent races. His fourth place at Indianapolis in the Duesenberg indicates that he is getting back on the racing hall of fame where his past performances have won him many admirers.

The fact that he is driving one of the greatest cars that the Duesenberg brothers ever turned out will make him a contender right from the drop of Eddie Rick-enbacker's checkered flag after the drivers have done a mile behind Barney Oldfield, life pace maker.

Nobles to Back Him
"Howdy" Wilcox, himself a Shriner, being a member of Murat Temple, Indianapolis, and 1919, Indianapolis Speedway winner, will have the well wishes of thousands of visiting Nobles for whom the great festival of auto racing has been planned as a feature of the Shrine convention.

Roscoe Saries, in his new Duesenberg job, Art Klein, driving one of the famous Chevrolet new type Frontenacs, has a real car for the first time in two years. Peter de Paolo, nephew of De Palma, is driving Eddie Hearne's Distel-Duesenberg, and Cliff Durant will pilot his Durant Special which is faster now than when Tommy Milton won the AAA championship with it last year.

Jules Ellingboe, Canadian national champion with a Grand Prix Duesenberg, Wilbur D'Alene in the Mexican Anhuac, Joe Thomas with his rebuilt Duesenberg, to say nothing of such well known eastern drivers as Dalen, Norden-shuld and Malcher will "make a great race."

To Race Airplane
Wilcox in his fast Peugeot, will, in addition to doing his best to make the race victor a Shriner, will thrill the crowds in an exhibition against a fast airplane. The stunt will take place just in advance of the 150 miles of auto racing.

Earl P. Cooper starts the day off as early as 10 o'clock in the morning with his 100 miles against time in the Paige 6-66 Daytona stock chassis in which he is after a new world's mark for the distance for that class of car. The early comers will be well entertained.

In addition to these star attractions on the track will be the Ford dealers' twenty-five mile race with the dealers themselves piloting their fastest flivvers. Eleven have entered.

The drivers and their camps will feast on a bull's head breakfast in the morning before the races, and the big barbecue prepared under the direction of Don Jose Greer, famous barbecue chef, will feed upwards of 10,000 hungry Shriners and their friends.

Being conducted under the official American Automobile Association sanction and under the auspices of the Shrine convention, the June 14 event will make history for auto racing in the west, being the biggest single day's program ever crowded onto any speedway in the country.

Owner of Indians Dead From Illness

CHICAGO, June 9.—James C. (Jimmy) Dunn, known to thousands of baseball fans as president and chief owner of the Cleveland Indians, died at his home today as the result of an attack of the "flu" contracted while the Indians were at their spring training camp at Dallas, Texas.

Besides his baseball activities, Dunn was head of the Dunn-McCarthy Construction company and had made a fortune as a contractor on railroad work.

Dunn first became ill while at Dallas and was in a hospital there for sometime. Later he improved rapidly and was believed to have recovered. After his return to Chicago he was well for a time but three weeks ago he suffered a relapse and since that time has been under constant medical attention.

Six years ago Dunn acquired the controlling interest in the Cleveland club and under his administration the club has been world's champion one season and has been a pennant contender during several years.

Dunn was 56 years old and was born at Marshalltown, Iowa. His wife, who was Miss Edith Fournier of Marshalltown, was at his bedside when he died. They had no children.

Tagging All Bases

Babe, the well known Ruth, first conceded that he had no chance to equal or better his home run record this year, then went to the plate in the first inning and nudged his fourth homer of the season beyond the right field bleachers. Incidentally the clout came at the expense of "No-hit" Robertson and the Yanks beat the White Sox for the third time, 7 to 2.

The rampant Reds again ran riot over the Dodgers, greeting their old pal, Dutch Reuther, in a very unclubby manner. He was rushed off the premises in less than three innings and the Reds won, 7 to 2. It was Reuther's first defeat in nine starts and his second of the season.

The Pirates got to Ring and Singleton for sixteen hits and managed to outlast the Phillies once more, 7 to 5.

Coming from behind in the late innings, the Senators made it three straight from the Indians. Zachary pitched well for the winners.

In the words of the old song, "Everybody's Doing It," leading off in the first inning, Pep Young of the Athletics, hit his first home

May Refuse to Take England's New Oath

DUBLIN, June 9.—It was reported in republican circles this afternoon that Eamonn de Valera will refuse to take oath to support the British Empire if it is included in the new draft of the Irish constitution. De Valera's attitude toward the oath was understood to have been discussed by the Anglo-Irish conferees at London today.

run of his major league career. However, this didn't prevent the Athletics' defense from kicking away another game to the Tigers, 7 to 6.

MOVE TO SEIZE

ALL COAL MINES

Plan Under Way In Senate to Enact Legislation Authorizing Action

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, June 9.—A threat to invoke governmental intervention as a means of ending the coal tie-up was climaxed today by revelation that a movement is under way in the senate to enact a joint resolution authorizing the president to seize all mines in strike areas.
The proposed action is said to be gaining support from both the Democrats and Republicans who declared they would favor this unprecedented remedy if pacific methods failed.
The movement was launched by former Progressives who recalled the sudden termination of the great bituminous strike of 1902, when President Roosevelt threatened to seize all mines.
Introduction of the proposed resolution, it was learned authoritatively has already been the subject of one conference of former Progressives.

ELDER LOUIS H. CHRISTIAN, RECENT VISITOR IN GLENDALE, TELLS CONDITIONS IN EUROPE

Adventist Official Warns of Anarchy and Says America May Be Involved; United States Leading in Relief Work, He Says

Russian anarchy and desolation may be transferred to the United States according to Elder Louis H. Christian, vice-president of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination, who spent the week-end in Glendale and believes Biblical prophecy is rapidly coming to pass.

"They said over there that what they have had is coming to America and I think they may be right," he asserted in an interview. "I have never seen more fertile land than that in the famine district. I have never seen better farming machinery than where the famine was the worst. Such a famine as they had in Russia you might get just as well over here."

"You read in the papers over here that the famine is broken. I hope that is true, but it is very difficult for me to believe it. I don't believe the famine horrors are abating much. It is an established fact that they ate dead bodies and also that they killed people to eat them. I know that because the British and American relief workers told me. They don't deceive you. There is a great need of money with which to buy horses and seed. If they don't get seed grain, the famine will continue next year almost as bad as this year—if not worse."

New Social Order

"I left Germany last year in the midst of a general strike in February with a party of physicians, preachers and lawmakers. One of the men was a member of the Swedish parliament. After those people had visited all conditions in Europe, this member of the Swedish parliament got up and said:

"The whole of Europe is drifting into anarchy. It is inevitable. There is nothing that can stay it and we believe that it will come not only to Europe but to all the civilized world."

"You hear everywhere that we are going into a new social order and in the making of that there will be a period of anarchy, dissolution and chaos. Aside from that, I have the Bible prophecy which I believe indicates that very plainly.

"A new age is being born. New standards of morality and religion and new conceptions of God are coming in."

"In that whole thing, I believe America will be involved. You can't divide the world and say that America is a part by itself. The world today is one apartment of one room. What affects Europe affects America. If you doubt that, you can just look at the economic situation."

Atheism Is Blamed

"I believe that no kingdom can exist without a God. The source of all Russia's troubles is its atheism. They deny that there is a moral ruler of the universe. They don't believe in the ten commandments. When men lose their conception of honor, integrity and honesty—and all those things are the result of their conception of God and morality—that nation goes down."

"I went into Russia, of course, to bring relief to the Adventists—about 12,000 of them including women and children who were in danger of starving. You know it is a cardinal tenet of our faith to take care of our poor members. We have raised over $125,000 for the relief of the starving in Europe, especially Russia. We think that we have plans on foot that will save every Adventist over there from starvation."

"We not only helped the Adventists, but we gave twenty percent of what we received to others. You can't carry on relief work on sectarian lines. A human being is a human being whether he is an Adventist, Catholic or atheist. When he is starving, you have got to help him."

Government Helpful

"The government was really very helpful and made an agreement with us by which we can bring relief to our members in every part of Russia. We sent them 600 tons of rye and a much larger supply of other kinds."

"The American relief work is six times as large as the relief work of all the rest of the world operating in Russia. They have been fortunate in selecting some splendid large-hearted men to lead the relief work. Really, America is the admiration of all of Russia because of her practical efficiency. The Russian people are very favorable towards America because of the millions we are saving through the relief work. You hear nothing but praise in Russia for American relief work and for the Americans, generally.

"The state is very favorable to all relief work. It isn't true that they haven't tried to feed people themselves and have done a little of it, but haven't succeeded so very much because they haven't the food and haven't the means of transportation."

Russian Revolution

"The Russian revolution is not like the French revolution. In the first place, the Russians never had the foundation of Roman law and jurisprudence. Then the Russian and French ideals and temperament are entirely different. It is not possible to make a satisfactory comparison. But, of course, the French revolution finally adjusted itself and the Russian situation may do the same in time."

"Really, the new government has done something by destroying the old regime of the Czar, which was the cruelest government in the world."

"The revolutionary movements were very largely manipulated by adventurers and aristocrats who wanted to put Russia back in the old regime. About three million of the old Russian higher class have fled the country. They are living here and there and everywhere in Western Europe. Those men are plotting everywhere to destroy the Russian government. Kolchak, Denikine and Wrangel were of that type."

"The present Russian government is the oldest in Europe except that of Lloyd George. I am referring to the cabinet, of course. The government in Russia has held together for four years."

Lening Great Statesman

"I think Lening is the greatest statesman who has grown out of the war. Of course, I must not forget Lloyd George. Lening is not a Jew although a good many people think he is. At one time he was a patient in one of the sanitariums over there."

"Of course, you can understand that a man who can take Russia and hold the country for five years must have some strength because that is not an easy task. They have stood up against the world. Every effort from without to take that government has failed."

"I believe the Soviet government is there to stay. It was interesting to meet these Soviet men who do not live in huts and hovels but in palaces in Moscow."

"The Soviet government has taught four million people to read and write in the last three years. I was informed by its leaders."

Marriage Laws Loose

"The stories that are told about the nationalization of women are not true. The marriage laws are very, very loose, however. A man can get a divorce almost on a day's notice for any cause at all. They don't ask any question. They told me that a man could get a divorce and marry again three times in a week—but I am not sure about that. Many children are brought up in special homes. They regard the state as their caretaker and almost as their father and mother."

"Communism is really at an end. That meant no private property, no money, no initiative for yourself. State communism for the whole nation—that was their ideal. They have given that up. You can buy and sell now and own property."

"One difficulty now is speculation in money. A ruble before the war was worth fifty cents. A dollar now buys 2,000,000 rubles. It takes 30,000 rubles to buy a loaf of bread, 400,000 for a pound of butter and 4,500,000 for a pair of shoes and 400,000 for a pint of milk. A small meal in Moscow cost a million rubles—quite a scanty meal."

Doubles Membership

"The Adventist denomination in Russia has doubled its membership in the last five years. The government has been very favorable to us. The general run of Russian people have large faith in the Lord."

"The government has been favorable to us because we believe in religious liberty and don't believe in a state religion. Then, too, our interest in education, hygiene and health has helped us a great deal with the Russian people."

There's Profit in Paint for Property Owners

Real estate men are responsible for the painting of many houses. No one knows better than they how valuable an asset is good appearance in a house when it is about to be sold or rented. They have seen so many cases where well-painted and preserved property was readily disposed of, and where property of neglected, weather-beaten appearance stood vacant, that they often recommend the painting of a house before placing it on the market.

And it is a fact that paint not only improves the chance of selling or renting property, but often is also the direct cause of a better price being obtained for it.

If you have property that will be up for sale or rent this summer, improve its desirability and add to your profit by first painting it. The value of paint depends upon how well it is made and used. Use artistic, pleasing colors and employ good workmen.

ADMIRAL KATO TO SELECT CABINET

Choice of Leader Is Said to Be In Accord With Satsuma Section

By JAMES MCCLAIN
TOKIO, June 9.—Admiral Kato has been selected to form a new cabinet. The minister of the navy in the fallen cabinet is not believed desirous of accepting but this afternoon is in conference with Marquis Matsukata, a member of the genro, and his decision is expected to follow.

Admiral Kato expects his ministry will be pro-Seiyou-Kai, the dominant political party, but non-partisan.

The selection of Kato is reported to be in accord with the wishes of the Satsuma clan who are strongly entrenched in the bureaus and in the house of peers.

It was regarded as significant that Kato's selection was followed by a conference with Marquis Matsukata, the Satsuma genro, and preceded by a conference with Admiral Yamamoto, virtual head of the Satsuma clan.

WORK OF MUSIC CLUB ENDORSED

Ministers' Association In Resolution In Favor of Organization

"The Glendale Ministers' association endorses the splendid work of the Glendale Music club under the direction of Mrs. Mattison B. Jones and especially the efforts to foster a higher type of musical training among the children."

Such is the wording of a resolution recently passed by this body which continues as follows:

"We commend the above organization to the attention of music lovers of our churches and to the parents of our children."

The resolution is signed by Rev. C. M. Calderwood, pastor of the Congregational church and president of the association, and Rev. V. Hunter Brink, pastor of the Central Avenue Methodist church and vice president of the association.

The Telephone Directory

Good telephone service depends vitally upon care in calling telephone numbers. A wrong number called causes loss of time to you, to the party called and to the operator. Every instance means avoidable inconvenience to all concerned.

It is not the loss of time to you alone or to the operator that concerns us most, but it is the annoyance to the party called. Your mistake cannot be explained to him, and the Telephone Company is held responsible for your error.

Consulting the current issue of the telephone directory, instead of trusting to memory; giving your number clearly, and quickly correcting the operator if she misunderstands your call, will greatly increase the efficiency of the service.

CONTRACTORS AND BUILDERS SEEK PROTECTION

Majority Tell City Council They Are in Favor of Bond, Not License

Local contractors and builders—about thirty of them—met at the city hall last night to discuss with the city council a proposed license ordinance by which it was hoped to keep irresponsible workers and firms from invading Glendale and defrauding persons building.

After a general discussion, the contractors and builders, by a vote of twenty-three to two, several not voting, decided against a combined license and bond ordinance, favoring an ordinance that called for a bond only.

Some of the speakers were I. J. Hoover, W. A. Anderson, W. S. May, J. J. Burke and members of the council.

It was brought out on questions by Councilman Sam A. Davis that the proposed license fee of $100 yearly would be "passed on" to the people having homes built.

Councilman A. H. Lapham opposed a $100 license, saying that $50 was enough.

During the discussion the suggestion was made that none but a licensed contractor or builder be permitted to take out a building permit.

SHIRLEY MASON A 'RAGGED HEIRESS'

Pretty Star and Picture of Pathos Plus Humor at Glendale Theatre

Shirley Mason is to be seen at the Glendale theatre today in "The Ragged Heiress"—a picture embodying a story as dainty as the star herself.

It is a story of sweet girlhood made the victim of circumstances originating in a father's conviction of crime and progressing toward drudgery as a maid of all work—though rightfully the possessor of independent means.

All is righted eventually, of course, and to the accompaniment of a very delightful romance of the heart; but meanwhile there is much of pathos and not a little of humor in the development of the story.

The star role is one in which Miss Mason revels, and belongs in the category in which she has achieved her most pronounced success under the Fox banner. To a personality of great charm this actress unites a talent that never fails to win for her new admirers with each succeeding photoplay.

"All at Sea" is Eddie Barry's contribution, while Fox News and a Pathe Review complete the bill.

One can find out enough "things for his own good" without being told.

OFFICE CHANGES ARE ANNOUNCED

J. F. Stanford Is Making Plans to Meet Increase in His Business

An entirely new force of six experienced real estate and insurance men has been engaged by the J. F. Stanford realty and insurance company, it is announced.

The office has been renovated and new signs installed, and the various departments of the business are to be handled separately. In the future, Mr. Stanford will devote his attention exclusively to building.

A. C. Anderson, for years a real estate operator in Los Angeles, is to be manager of the Stanford office. Mr. Anderson has organized the force along new lines, and each man is a specialist in his particular department, it is stated.

In the house and lot division are H. H. Salice, until recently of Long Beach, and J. H. Phillips of Glendale. A former Hollywood realtor, Charles R. Henderson, will have charge of the exchange department.

D. S. Levine, an experienced young insurance man of Los Angeles, is to have charge of all branches of the insurance division. It is the intention of Mr. Stanford to build up this department, and for that reason has engaged Mr. Levine for that work alone.

The country properties are to be handled by W. M. Crown, who recently arrived in Glendale. Mr. Crown was formerly a real estate man of Detroit, Michigan, and is known in various sections throughout the country.

It is understood that the growth of Mr. Stanford's business necessitated its revision and the addition of the experienced new force. With his attention free to devote solely to building, he expects to greatly increase the construction activities of the company.

Financial Smash of Austria Is Expected

VIENNA, June 9.—Austria's financial and economic smash is expected hourly, according to a gloomy picture of the future painted today by Austrian officials.

The monthly deficit is said to be about 75,000,000,000 kronen. (The normal pre-war value of the Austrian kronen was 20 cents, but it is now worth seven cents, one thousand kronen in American money).

According to reports from Prague, the supreme council has applied to Czechoslovakia to be prepared to take over a provisional mandate for Austria until all the powers that signed the Treaty of St. Germain can consult as to further steps.

Two final courses will be considered:

First—That the signatories of the St. Germain treaty hold a mandate jointly.

Second—That the mandate be taken over by Italy.

It is believed that collapse of Austria will bring about revision of the St. Germain treaty. The officials of the Viennese government admit themselves helpless. They say the treasury is empty; the country's credit is dead; the factories are closed down and the people are unable to pay their taxes.

VIENNA, June 9.—Governor William D. Stephens today issued a proclamation urging the observance of National Flag day, June 14, on all citizens of California. The governor declared reverence and allegiance to the national emblem are the first requisites to good citizenship.

SPEED OF RADIO HAS EVERYTHING BEATEN, EH?

Anyway, Old Man Mercury Could Never Catch Up With These Waves

By GEORGE VAN SANDS
Radio Editor The Evening News

You remember among the gods and goddesses of this old Roman mythology they actually had a messenger boy called Mercury. And, unlike our messenger boys of today, he was supposed to be just about the speediest thing there was. You can't fool around any art museum now without seeing a statue of this original Western Union kid. And whoever was the author of this old mythology was certainly no slouch when it came to using his imagination in picturing the different characters. The fact that the school boards today insist that Roman mythology must be a part of a student's education, and that practically everybody knows all these different gods and goddesses by their first name, speaks pretty well for whoever it was that first sprung this Roman mythology on the world some time before modern history commences.

It's for this reason that we always associate this god of speed with wings on his feet, with anything that is fast in the way of messenger service, but when it comes down to real speed Mercury is absolutely outclassed by radio and can't even hold a candle to it. The "experts" have been telling us for months how these radio waves travel 186,000 miles per second, but most of us are not much interested in these cold figures. And for all we care, they could be traveling 186,000,000 in half a second, but it will perhaps better illustrate the real speed in which radio does travel to mention that, when the speaker at a broadcasting station over in Los Angeles commences to talk into the transmitting receiver, we hear his voice by radio here in Glendale before the people hear it, who are only a few feet away from his voice in the same room where he is speaking into the receiver.

Some Speed, What?

The fastest thing Mercury is credited with in mythology doesn't come anywhere near reaching this for speed, and they claim that these same radio waves will travel around the earth ten times in a second, and this fellow Einstein, who can give a most comprehensive talk on the theory of the fourth dimension, and make it so perfectly clear that nobody else but himself even has any idea what he is talking about, tells us that this speed of radio is absolutely beyond human comprehension, too fast, in fact, to even think about. So, it is beginning to look like Mr. Mercury, if he expects to keep abreast of the times, will have to change his name to Radio.

Now to change the subject a trifle—and to fill up my allotted space—did you ever stop to think that the age of the earth must certainly run up into the tens of thousands of years, and here we are today talking around the earth by wireless, and the discovery, advancement and improvements of this same wireless has only covered a period of just a few years? So, what untold possibilities there must be in store for radio in a few years hence?

PLEASING HOUSE IS BEING BUILT

Attractive Home Is Under Construction; Invitation to Public to Visit

One of the most distinguished houses in Glendale is under construction at 1360 East Maple street. The contract for the home was awarded to the Low Building Company, local representatives for Pacific Ready-Cut Homes, Incorporated.

It is of modified English design embodying many unique features. The exterior is to be finished with slate roofing effect, wrought iron gratings at the window openings, distinctive tangent windows projecting from the roof and the interior is to be finished in new duotone enamel effects.

The house is to be similar to the exhibition home recently erected by the manufacturers on their exhibition grounds in Los Angeles.

Mr. Low of the Low Building company, states the material in this home is the finest he has ever seen and adds that the structure will be open to inspection daily until the home is completed and ready for occupancy.

FOR EDUCATION, ROADS

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9.—States containing naval petroleum reserves are to receive 20 per cent of the sums received by the national government as rents and royalties for the lands under provisions of a bill favorably reported today by the house public lands committee. The funds so received by the states are to be devoted to educational and road building purposes.

Senator Fall reported that the total area in the naval oil reserves on December 1, 1921, was 6,612,138 acres, distributed among California, Arizona, Montana, North Dakota, Utah, Wyoming and Louisiana.

RADIO EXPLAINED

By E. H. LEWIS
INSTRUCTOR NEW YORK Y. M. C. A. RADIO SCHOOL

ELECTRONS

The vacuum tubes so familiar to the radio public are sometimes called "electron tubes," "radio tubes," "audiotrons" and "pilotrons." The two electrode tubes used solely as rectifiers are called quite often "kenotrons." The word "tron" which is a Greek word, appears very often, as does also the word "electron." It might be well, therefore, to know something about these electrons.

In the preceding article it was attempted to convey some idea of molecules and atoms. The molecule is the smallest possible particle of a substance which can be divided into some other substance, while the atom is the smallest particle of an elemental substance which cannot be so divided.

Now it has actually been found by noted scientists that even this infinitely small particle, the atom, of any elemental form of matter contains electricity. There really must be some reason why an atom of one substance differs from that of another. Why is the element iron different from the element copper? Much brilliant work on the part of these scientists who have investigated the "why" seems to confirm the theory that an atom is composed of a central nucleus which carries a positive charge of electricity and is surrounded by extremely minute particles of negative electricity. In fact, an atom of hydrogen has pretty conclusively proved to have just one smallest particle of negative electricity connected with it. An oxygen atom has one positive nucleus and eight particles of negative electricity. These particles of negative electricity are called "electrons," and each is so extremely small that it would compare in size with one atom as a pin head does with a building about three hundred and fifty feet high and two hundred feet square. The atom has really been measured, but not by observation under even the most powerful microscope. The means of measurement cannot be described here, but suffice to say, that they were clever. It has been found, however, that electrons have no weight, since they absolutely cannot be acted upon by the force of gravity. They have a certain mass—that is, they can be measured, but they have no weight. They are merely the smallest possible portions of negative electricity.

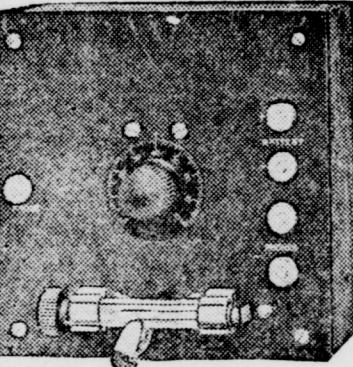

Electrons may then be found in varying amounts in all substances, and all kinds of matter, therefore, have electricity within them. Electricity seems to be essential to even the air we breathe and the food we eat. It does seem rather strange that we should eat electricity, even though the bright scholars in school may be said to "eat it up" in their studies.

NEW APPARATUS AND DEVICES

By RALPH BROWN
RADIO ENGINEER, CUTTING AND WASHINGTON RADIO CORP.

A NEW VACUUM TUBE DETECTOR

A vacuum tube has come upon the market which requires no "B" batteries or grid leaks. It is not suited for use in a regenerative circuit, but is a quite sensitive radio detector. In addition to sensitivity the tube has the quality of selectivity which can be secured within itself by suitable adjustment.

The illustration shows the top of the detector unit upon which the tube is mounted. Directly beneath the tube, inside the cabinet, is a horseshoe magnet which is used to guide the electrons and concentrate them between the internal elements of the tube. The tube itself can be turned in its holder so that the electrons will be concentrated in the proper locality within the tube. By rotating the tube it can be adjusted to a maximum degree of sensitivity, although it has inherent sensitivity without this adjustment. The filament of the tube takes one-half of an ampere to function properly, and four ordinary dry cells may be used for filament lighting. There is a filament rheostat in the center of the panel, which may be used in the customary manner for regulation of the filament temperature. Reduction of the filament current tends to broaden, while an increase tends to make more critical the tuning qualities of the tube itself. Sensitivity may also be increased by moving a pole piece, which is shown immediately below the tube. When tuning to any given wave length with a receiving set the tube and the pole piece should be adjusted. If the tuning adjustment of the receiver is changed it will be found best to "tune" or adjust the tube and pole piece, also.

The panel is of dull finished, insulating material and measures six inches square. The box or cabinet is finished in mahogany. All exposed metal parts have a high, nickel plated finish, and the appearance of the unit is very pleasing. One of the advantages claimed is the reception of signals without any annoying "squeal." The detector works well on either a direct or inductively coupled receiving circuit.

Present at Exercises Behalf Occidental

Mrs. A. W. Enright and family of 909 North Central avenue attended the commencement exercises of Occidental college, that were held last night in the auditorium of Franklin High school. They were guests of Miss Loraine Hendry, of Los Angeles, member of the graduating class. Miss Adrienne Enright plans to enter Occidental as a student at the opening of the fall term. The family were also guests at the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brett, which occurred recently at the Church of Epiphany, on Sichel street, Los Angeles.

ELECTRIC SYSTEM AND HOTEL PLAN NEED MONEY

Eastside Association Talks
Of Improvements; Urges
Financial Action

good return," asserted Mr. Nelson. "I think if we all get behind this thing we can put it over."

No Place to Quit

C. W. Ingledue, who presided as president of the association, stated that the money had been raised from about fifty people. He said that, although the future looked hopeful, he did not believe that this was any place to lay down on the job.

Maurice B. Hartman of 316 East Ethel street said that he was in favor of both the hotel and the electric service but inquired which one of them was the most important. The consensus of opinion seemed to be that both were equally important—the electric to bring patrons to the hotel to provide passengers for the electric line.

Mrs. Mabel L. Tight of 612 Broadway commented upon the fact that the hotel is expected to return dividends to its stock-owners.

Councilman C. E. Kimlin, manager of the Glendale Sanitarium, stated that the arrangement by which the bonus is not to be paid to the Glendale & Montrose railway until the line was in operation is very commendable.

"Anybody who puts money in this fund will get it back if we don't get the railroad," declared Dr. Henry R. Harrower emphasizing the integrity of the committee in charge of the funds. A pledge of $500 from him towards this bonus was announced.

All to Have Chance

"Everybody in Glendale ought to have a chance to subscribe to the railroad," remarked Mr. Ingledue. "It will be a big benefit to all of us."

P. L. Hatch, superintendent of the Glendale & Montrose railway, stated that his company was anxious to begin actual work on the proposition as soon as possible. He predicted that the line would be ready for passengers in four or five months.

The attitude of the railroad commission was touched upon lightly. It was admitted that failure to secure its approval would mean the abandonment of the entire project.

Those present were requested to sign the following contract or agreement: "Whereas, the Union Pacific Railroad company is now operating and maintaining a railroad for freight purposes only on the southern portion of Glendale avenue in the city of Glendale, and

"Whereas, the operating of a steam engine on said street is noisy and very objectionable to the residents living on and near said Glendale avenue, it is proposed by the Union Pacific railroad company to lease their railroad line from the intersection of their railroad line and Verdugo road in the city of Los Angeles, running thence westerly to Glendale avenue, in the city of Glendale, and thence northerly to the end of their right of way, on said Glendale avenue, to the Glendale & Montrose Railroad company and to arrange with said Glendale & Montrose Railroad company to handle freight on said line of said line of railroad by electric motor or power. And it is also proposed by the Glendale & Montrose Railroad company to establish and maintain electric passenger car service on said railroad.

"Now, therefore, in consideration of the premises and of the benefits and advantages to be derived by me, my heirs, successors and assigns, from the construction and maintenance of said electric car service, as aforesaid, I, the undersigned, do hereby subscribe and agree and promise to pay to the Glendale & Montrose Railroad company the sum of (blank) dollars.

"I hereby constitute and appoint Dr. H. R. Harrower, Peter L. Ferry and S. C. Kinch, trustees for the purpose of collecting, holding and disbursing said amount, the same to be paid to said trustees at the Glendale Avenue branch of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings bank, within (blank) days from date hereof; and I further direct said Dr. H. R. Harrower, Peter L. Ferry and S. C. Kinch, trustees, to pay said sum to the Glendale & Montrose railroad as soon as said railroad has been equipped for electric car service, and as soon as electric passenger car service is started on said line."

Toy Making Rebuilds Shell-Shocked Vets

WASHINGTON.—Shell-shocked war veterans can be cured by putting them to work making toys.

So declares Edward G. McCandish, a war veteran himself and well known as a portrait painter and illustrator of children's books, who has formed such a class at the St. Elizabeth's hospital here.

This method of curing afflicted veterans, the expounder of the theory avers, tends to develop the initiative of the patient, usually lacking.

"The patient," McCandish explains, "is 'exposed' to the influence of the busy shop atmosphere, the bright, even gaudy colors used in painting the toys, and is gradually encouraged to take hold of the work with as little obvious direction as possible."

McCandish's experiment is being watched with close interest.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome, an easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients in a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not painful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.—Advertisement.

PLACES ETCHINGS UPON EXHIBITION

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cotton Invite Public to See the Attractive Display

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cotton of 1137 San Rafael street, Casa Verdugo, will keep open house this afternoon and Saturday when Mr. Cotton will have on display an exhibition of his etchings, prints and watercolors, for the pleasure of his friends and the art lovers of Glendale, who may wish to enjoy a glimpse of these works of art.

Mr. Cotton has been exhibiting his prints for many years and in many places, beginning, he says, at the tender age of 10 years. Since that time he has had exhibits at the Art Institute in Chicago, the National Gallery in Ottawa, Canada, and many other large cities in the Dominion, the Walker Academy in Liverpool, England, the Royal Academy in London. His prints won honors at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. His prints are hung in the Congressional Library at Washington, and in our own state Capitol at Sacramento.

Studies in England

Ten years ago Mr. Cotton spent some time in London, England, in the royal school of etching and engraving, which is conducted by Sir Francis Short. He is a member of the California Art club of Los Angeles and various other equally known art clubs.

Among the etchings at his home are many that he brought back when he returned from France and still later ones of water color that were made this year at Palm Springs.

Guy Barham, L. A. Publisher, Is Dead

LONDON, June 9.—Guy Barham, publisher of the Los Angeles Herald, died early today at the London nursing house as a result of a throat operation he underwent several days ago. Mr. Barham came to London with the party of William Randolph Hearst.

Mr. Barham rallied from the operation and was thought to be recovering. The doctors who were in attendance announced that death was caused by pulmonary embolism following an operation for the removal of a gland from the throat. The body will be taken to America by Mrs. Barham, who probably will sail next Wednesday.

BETTY COMPSON IN 'OVER THE BORDER'

Picture at T. D. & L. Today
Filmed in the Mountains
Where Love Ruled

Betty Compson, Paramount star of "The Little Minister" and "The Green Temptation," and Tom Moore, famous for his romantic characterizations, is a new but welcome combination in Penrhyn Stanlaw's newest production, "Over the Border," which is here presented at the T. D. & L. theatre today.

This story of the love of Sergeant Plaherty, of the "Royal Mounted," for Jen, winsome daughter of a bootlegging tavern-keeper, has many moments of high drama. Miss Compson misses none of its opportunities. Produced as a Paramount picture, superbly cast and filmed among mountain settings which thrill with their beauty, the creation is one that rightfully bears the hallmark of excellence and reflects the greatest credit on all concerned in the production.

Its adaptation from Sir Gilbert Parker's notable short story, "She of the Triple Chevron," has retained all the power with which the famous author invested his work, and has enhanced the history of the celebrated R. N. W. M. police.

Continue Development at Fairview Tract

Hamilin & Hepburn, subdividers of Fairview, report that there is a great deal of development work going on in their tract at the present time. Gas mains are being put down in Allen avenue, Irving avenue and Thompson avenue, the work on Allen avenue being well under way.

The city of Glendale is putting in electric lines in the sixth and seventh units serving Elm avenue and Linden avenue, north and south of Glenwood Road. Street work is being completed on Irving avenue and Linden avenue north of Glenwood Road.

A large number of new houses are under construction in all parts of the tract. A year ago all of this tract was a barley field and growing crops. The first house was started in September. Now there are over ninety houses on the tract.

Among the recent sales are two lots on Western avenue which were purchased by Martin and Ruth Sunkes for a consideration of $800 each. They will improve the property immediately.

Hamilin & Hepburn attribute the remarkable success of this tract to the fact that from the start the prices have been very reasonable, far lower than adjoining tracts. The terms as low as anybody could ask, being only 10 per cent down and small monthly payments. The restrictions have not been so high that it has been impossible for a man of small means to start a home. The result of this policy has been a large amount of building with consequent population and an increase in values.

The natural location of the property on a beautiful slope, close to transportation, schools, stores, etc., makes a favorable appeal to all home-seekers and it is predicted that the development during the next year will far exceed what has taken place in the past year.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Is California Revolutionary
Or an Expression of Wealth
Or Vigorous Race Here
How About Brighter Lights

By Gil A. Cowan

HAVING expounded the viewpoint of California from the inside of the state for so long that terms almost have become hackneyed, let me quote you the ideas of Colonel John P. Wilson of the Punxsutawney, Pa., Spirit, who was a visitor here recently. Following is a report of his speech before the Rotarians of his home city:

"I found something in California that I never expected to discover in my lifetime. That was communities in which the civic spirit was developed to the point where practically all the citizens were willing to sacrifice their personal interests in the welfare of the whole population. Whether this was altruism or intelligent self-interest is not important. The result is the vital thing."

"California is not noted for leadership in civic matters. It reminds me of George Ade's description of the political leaders in the state of Indiana in the early days. He said about all the leaders could do was to gallop along the side lines and try to keep up with the procession. In California there is danger of the leaders getting run over."

"It seems to be a sort of universal impulse and a constant urge to do bigger and greater things."

"I do not want to create the impression that it is a country of universal prosperity. There are many individual failures and the way is strewn with plenty of financial mishaps. If a man has failure in him, I believe he gets results quicker than here."

"But I did not learn of any community failures."

"What developed the spirit I can not enlighten you on. It is not the result of the old Spanish civilization. That has made no progress and is the same there as it was 150 years ago. Neither is it the result of Japanese immigration. The Japanese have no interest in civic affairs in America."

"Some claim it is the result of climate. While it is generally admitted that climate has influence on the progress of the race, it is also generally considered a slow process, a matter of evolution."

"The California spirit is not evolution. It is revolution and is real quick about it too."

"I wish we could get it started in Punxsutawney," concluded the Colonel.

Now, is it revolution, folks, that makes things go in California?

Is it not the expression of natural and man-made wealth?

The Creator gave this section the ocean, the hills, the climate, golden sunset, starlit skies and sunshine almost every day in the year.

The people who have chosen to come here bring with them the savings, earned and unearned, of the country and they proceed to spend it. All of which makes for prosperity.

And, as everyone is interested in improvements, both personal and public, they leave no stone unturned, no dollar unspent to gain their ends. So it is that colleges have been endowed, high schools built, great enterprises fostered with the result that the rest of the world looks to California as a leader in progress.

However, something must be said of the vigor of the people here. The atmosphere is invigorating and a youngster who comes west gets imbued with the idea of doing things.

As one man said last night, California gets the best blood of the nation. It takes a person with a little ambition to get up and leave his old home and come out here.

So it is that these five wires, when placed in comparative work with eastern residents, more than make good, according to any standard. Remember how it was in the war. One of the greatest boosters this state has was able to do just three times the work that men from Boston and New York did.

Really, then, it is not revolution, but action based on accomplishments of the recent past, not the historic past.

Random thoughts come to hand almost every day and there is no clearing house for them other than the Comment Column, it would seem.

The Rev. Ernest E. Ford has found that by parking his car on Bunker Hill in Los Angeles and taking the Angel's Flight railway down to the business section he is able to save considerable time.

A tourist from Wisconsin says that the only reason people do not come to California is that they lack ambition.

Brighter lights in the business section are advocated now that Glendale has blossomed into a "regular town."

The results of sticking together were shown to Glendale Rotarians this week when their en masse appearance in uniform dress made a big hit.

The city council last night adopted an ordinance making the foundation of a residence the line from which a setback is to be measured. The matter has been under consideration for weeks, the councilmen, until last night, being unable to decide whether to make the porch line or the house foundation line the point of measurement.

Speech was given us to conceal our thoughts, especially slang.

RESULT IN IOWA ALARMS LEADERS

Verdict In Primaries Is Causing Complications
for Administration

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, June 9.—Despite the scrupulous care exercised by President Harding and his administration advisers in keeping strictly "hands off" the Iowa primary fight, the result in that warm contest today threatened to have an early effect in creating additional complications for the administration's legislative program, particularly the ship subsidy bill which President Harding has declared the present congress "must pass."

Colonel Smith W. Brockhart, the ultra-Progressive, who won the Iowa senatorial nomination from a field of six candidates, campaigned on a vigorous platform, the chief plank of which was opposition to the Esch-Cummins act and its guaranty provisions which amount to a virtual subsidy. Clifford Thorne, anti-railroad attorney who was second in the Iowa contest, also opposed the Esch-Cummins act, and their combined strength approximated, roughly, 70 per cent of the Iowa Republican sentiment.

Torn With Desire
The mid-western group of representatives who have already announced their opposition to the ship subsidy plan were freely interpreting this register of opinion today as another evidence that the great grain and hog producing sections of the country are opposed to the subsidy legislation. One Kansan termed it "a mandate which we cannot ignore."

The mid-westerners are torn with a desire to vote as they believe their districts want them to vote, and yet they hesitate to deliberately throw down legislation upon which the president, as titular head of the party, has laid such stress.

DISTINGUISHED GUESTS

SAN DIEGO, June 9.—The naval transport Henderson arrived here Thursday with Secretary of the Navy Denby and a group of Annapolis graduates of the class of 1881 aboard. Mrs. Denby and several naval experts were included in the party. San Diego has planned an elaborate program of entertainment for its distinguished guests.

Phone Company Is Installing Big Cable

A new 900 pair cable is replacing the present 600 pair string in the conduit on Brand boulevard from the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company office south to Maple avenue. This will make possible 1800 connections in the rapidly developing southern section of the city and is the largest cable ever installed here, according to Manager Fred Deal.

BONUS UP IN TWO WEEKS

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The $3,800,000,000 soldier bonus bill will be called up for action in the senate within two weeks, it was announced today by Senator McCumber, Republican, of North Dakota, chairman of the finance committee of the senate.
